reduced, when the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe reaches Pueblo, in January next. Certainly it will be reduced considerably, of this we have assurance, and the reduction will extend to freight rates also, so that our South Park neighbors, and even those north of us as far as Denver and the mountain towns surrounding it, will find it to their advantage to ship goods and take passage by the A. & R. G. through Colorado Springs, via Pueblo, to and from the East.

Colorado Springs merchants will then be able to receive merchandise cheaper than those of Denver. This being the case, where will the South Park, San Juan, Cottonwood, Gunnison, and other trade be concentrated? Where but in Colorado Springs? We wish God speed to our County Commissioners and our plucky Cottonwood Road Company in their vigorous effort to give us good wagon roads to the west of us.

This is the true policy of Colorado Springs to-day. To open up the vast rich agricultural and mineral country to our west. Do that properly, and an eastern connection will soon be built to us—trunk line route.

Vote for Joseph C. Wilson and Robert Douglass next Saturday, Oct. 23rd.

The meeting has convened for the purpose of putting in nomination two candidates to the convention which will meet in Denver on December 28, 1875, to form a constitution for the Territory of Colorado Springs.

Although always under the impression that Colorado Springs was a big place, the widest of our imagination has never yet been equal to the number of its people. It is a Territory, in the common acceptance of the word.

The orator's address was not favorably received, and, however much some of the members of the convention may favor the River Bend Road, we are of the opinion that, if at that moment the question had been put to them, they would have voted against bonds.

Mr. Strickler was informed that it was in order to select an Assistant Secretary, and Mr. Lawton was voted to that arduous position. Messrs. Brown and Wiley were thereafter selected to act as Tellers, and then the real business of the meeting began, the nomination of candidates to the Constitutional Convention.

Various nominations were made to be balloted on, some of them declined, among the latter one late county commissioner, H. McNamee, Esq. Fifty-two candidates were set up, who, it is a fair presumption, will receive the vote of the party, and meet with success in the election of the party, which is a majority in the County.

Most of the non-inhabitants were made by Col. Bond, and second by a small lot of men, who, by the way, ought to have been at home and in bed.

The candidates placed before the people by this convention are: E. A. Smith, of Fountain, who is said to be a good, sensible man, and Jas. T. Wilson, of this town, who is so well known here that we need say nothing about him.

Mr. Wilson was elected by a large majority, how say, for the express purpose of defeating Joseph C. Wilson, the Republican candidate, we wish to caution Republicans to examine their tickets carefully before voting on Monday next, and to see that they are not voting for the man who is to be elected.

min is worked by a shaft, which is now down twenty-five feet. The only level yet run was one of twelve feet at a depth of twenty-one feet from the surface, and it is rapidly improving with depth the owners are sinking the shaft to running level. A shaft house and winch has been erected over the mine, and work will be carried on all winter.

Near the "Iron Star" is the Keystone, owned by Whittier, and owned by H. Marshall. This mine is also worked by a shaft, which is now down eighty feet. Crevice three feet, with a pay vein of from twelve to eighteen inches. It has been sold for $50,000 to $100,000. The ore has greatly increased in value the last twenty feet. On the last mined, we have not the mill value.

The Mother, Davis, London, and Hard to Beat claims, on a ledge crossing Sugarloaf Mountain, and covering a length of 6,000 feet on one side, are held as conveyed by London and Davis, and Co. This has a crevice of from 6 to 20 feet, and a pay streak of from 6 to 24 inches of carbonate of lead, free gold, quartz, etc. Assays of carbonates, from 10 to 80 ounces of silver, 35 per cent. lead, and 10 to 15 ounces of gold. The property is worked by cuts and tunnels, none of which is yet deep enough to determine the true worth of the property. The ore is of the best quality, and will prove the most valuable mine in Park County.

In this same region there are a number of large placer properties which have been worked to some extent every season since 1860. These need but to be worked extensively and systematically, and will produce a large sum of money and labor expended upon them.

We have left with us some fine looking galena, copper, and gold and silver bearing ores from several localities discovered at the head of Taylor Park, just west of the divide on the line between Park and Chouteau counties, which is a fine prospect. The ore is of the best quality, and will prove the most valuable mine in Park County.

COTTONWOOD ROAD.

On Wednesday last, a meeting of the stockholders of the Colorado Springs, Cottonwood and Lake County Wagon Road Company was held at Judge Stone's office in this town.

On motion of Major McAllister, Mr. James T. Aiken took the chair, and M. L. DeCoursey acted as secretary.

Major McAllister, of the Company Trustees, stated that C. H. White and H. A. True, who had been authorized to travel over the proposed line of wagon road, and to make contracts for its early completion, had performed the duties assigned to them, and were ready to make report to the stockholders.

The report was read by the secretary, as follows:

"Your committee would most respectfully report that, in accordance with our instructions, we first proceeded to Granite to confer with the commissioners of Lake County, and herewith we present an agreement, stating the amount of toll they are willing to impose.

"We then proceeded to the residence of Wait A. Bro., on Cottonwood Creek, and being joined by L. A. Watt, J. Barker, and Benjamin Howard, (three very efficient guides, we started to view the proposed route. The route first lies up the middle fork of the Cottonwood, we found a passable wagon road, and from its terminus to timber line, about nine miles, a gradual ascent, heavily timbered, which, by clearing out from under the timber, we found we could give a good hard road bed. From timber line to the summit of the range, about one mile of road, including curves, will be necessary. The last three hundred feet of which will be of rock cut. Crossing the range, there will be about the same distance through rock, before striking solid ground. Then a gradual descent along the side hill and for three miles on a ridge almost making a natural road bed, from the point of which we descend into Taylor Park, and through the same for about three miles. Then for three miles across an open timbered divide into Union Park, and through the same for three miles, to the entrance to Lotus Creek Canon, down which, for two and a half miles, though the descent is gradual, it is very rocky, and considerable work will be required to make a good road. For half a mile further, to Taylor River, through open ground and easy grade, and down Taylor River, a distance of eleven miles, principally through timber and good ground, excepting a few rocky points which will require blasting to Spring Creek. From Spring Creek through an open park and across an open divide, to the valley of East River, a distance of five miles. There we found a wagon road from Union, sixteen miles below, up the East River valley to the Elk Mountains, where, twenty-five miles above the point where we reach the river.

"We herewith present a table of distances and elevations; also a copy of the agreement made by your committee with parties who have heavy nurms and agricultural interests along the road.

Our road will open up and make tributary to Colorado Springs, a large and rich gold mining district in Taylor and Union Parks. The valley of the East River is being rapidly settled up. There have already been located fifteen or twenty ranches upon the line of the road, and where our road will intersect the road from Gunnison; and from what we have learned of the mines in the Elk Mountains, we believe that district will be second to none in the Territory.

"C. H. White, "H. A. True, "Committee."

The documents referred to in above report, are as follows, viz:

"An Agreement of Lake County Commissioners' of Lake county, Territory of Colorado, do hereby agree to establish the following toll rates over the wagon road to be built by the corporation known as the 'Colorado Springs, Cottonwood, and Lake County Wagon Road Company,' over Cottonwood Pass, or such other pass as the company may decide to locate said road upon:

at rates, and a force not needed over said road more than 5 miles, to be passed free to and from 1 mile.

The agreement to construct the road is hereby made, and we cannot afford space for it entire. It is dated October 19, 1875, and is signed by C. H. White and H. A. True for the Cottonwood Road Company, and the following parties, who undertake to build the road and have it in good condition for loaded teams to pass over by July 1, 1876, viz:

Chas. Holmes, James Watt, E. W. Hugg, George Watt, Wm. Vole, John Howe, H. Heiser, J. Barker, Angus Mackay, H. K. Morris, L. A. Watt, D. Harkack, U. Trellier, W. L. Johnston.

These parties all live along the line of the road or at its terminus, and its early and proper building is a matter of direct individual interest to them.

The road is to be built in a good and workmanlike manner, and no grades thereon will be greater than those on our Ute Pass Road near Manitou.

After the report of the committee had been accepted, the whole matter was voted into the hands of the Trustees, with instructions to have the road built and open to Colorado Springs as early a date as practicable.

The meeting then passed a vote of thanks to Messrs. C. H. White and H. A. True, and then adjourned.

CONSUMPTION OF SILK IN EUROPE.

It appears from a recent return that the consumption of silk in Europe is made up of pretty equal proportions of home and foreign silk. During the year of 1874 the total raw silk produced is stated at 9,050,000 pounds, while the amount imported from Asia is 11,500,000 pounds, making a total of upwards of 20,500,000 pounds as the entire consumption of silk in Europe during 1874. The countries included in the report are Italy, France, Spain, Greece, Turkey, Georgia, Persia, India, China, and Japan. The greater proportion to the amount of four fifths of the silk employed in Europe comes from Italy and China. China itself has exported, mainly from Shanghai, 8,000,000 pounds of silk. The share of Italy is estimated at 6,900,000 pounds. France has furnished 1,000,000 pounds; Spain about 310,000 pounds; Greece under 30,000 pounds; Turkey has furnished 1,000,000 pounds; Georgia and Persia 800,000 pounds; India 935,000 pounds, and Japan about 1,200,000 pounds. REMARKS RELATIVE TO ROSITA.

Your correspondent, having three of the ever-changing scenes and just of Monument life, and desiring a rest in some quiet, staid retreat where there are "none to molest or make a fool of," has retired, thus far from the hurrying world.

Rosita has already been written up, and has read up, and is now generally, after the usual yagorover and acolyte method of manufacturing new towns, until it seems quite unnecessary to remark further on its agriculture, a titice, to burst out in the same moment the water was taken on.

The Baccoc engine, after discharging its cylinders, was "bunc to be out of order, or else no other 'charges' were ready, or something of that sort, we don't know exactly what, but the machine was soon "bunc to be useless, although for the short time she was in service, she did good work.

So the "Fox and Lardner" boys took her, and with axes and buckets of water, soon succeeded in drenching the fire into some sort of control. After this was accomplished, "hottas and chains were attached to the building and it
